Notes

The salary is regarded as “earned income”. Therefore, if you have income from other sources, you may need to declare for income tax return depending on the total amount of your income. In case your total annual income (January to December) exceeds a certain amount, you may be excluded from the category of a dependent, or you may be asked to pay the health insurance premium. In any case, please check about the tax/insurance related matter carefully by yourself.

Selection Method

The selection shall be conducted by the Selection Committee of the Program.

Decision and Notification of Recruitment

The announcement will be made to all applicants in June 2026. If you do not hear from us, please contact PAAO by email.

Research Report

Successful applicants are required to submit a research report online by 14 March 2027.
